

Cancellation and Rescheduling Policy

This document details the cancellation and rescheduling policy for bookings at locations owned by The Peabody Group and the fees payable. The fees and cancellation notices differ depending on the location type and the scale of the booking. The aim of this cancellation policy is to compensate location owners when they have declined other enquiries, on the same dates that have been booked by a production and later cancel their booking. We appreciate productions are often forced to change their dates last minute. As such, some bookings may be rescheduled, subject to availability - but additional fees may be applicable.

1. Cancellations

- If a cancelled booking is rebooked by another production, the cancellation fees will be waived.
- The production must contact FilmFixer to enquire if the unit base has been rebooked and if they are subsequently eligible for waived cancellation fees.

2. Rescheduling

- Rescheduling dates is possible, subject to availability.
- Some bookings will need to pay an increased location fee to cover the location owner's loss of income due to the cancellation of the original dates
- An additional admin fee will always be applicable depending on the level of work required to move the booking. This will be calculated on a case-by-case basis.
- If staff costs were originally applicable and the rostering cannot be rearranged, then the original staff costs may be payable in full (often staff shifts are arranged around existing bookings at which point the location owner is legally obliged to fulfill the arranged shifts). If the booking dates are rearranged, the location owner will be required to book new shifts to accommodate then new dates at which point these will be payable on top of the original staff costs.
